TOM TOM

To John,

A fellow mechanic, maybe someday we'll get together and do somethin'. You rich ?! x *?!@#,x You're the only one who knows what Edelbrock means.

(Keep on blowin your sax!) Don Johnston

John:

To a decent freshman lead bush!

'76 Done.

Don Rundle

To John,
A pretty good friend who doesn't like me. (Better than J.L.)
Have fun in the next 3 years.
K.L.

To John,
a nice guy and a good ass player.
Good luck as a mechanic.

loiners around
I have the Board to have in the
to come, friend player, pard
"73"

John.
Really cool guy. Hope we good luck with the
the future. Hope you even get to go to know you guys better next year and you'll go way you are and this summer.
San. See ya
hope. friends always.

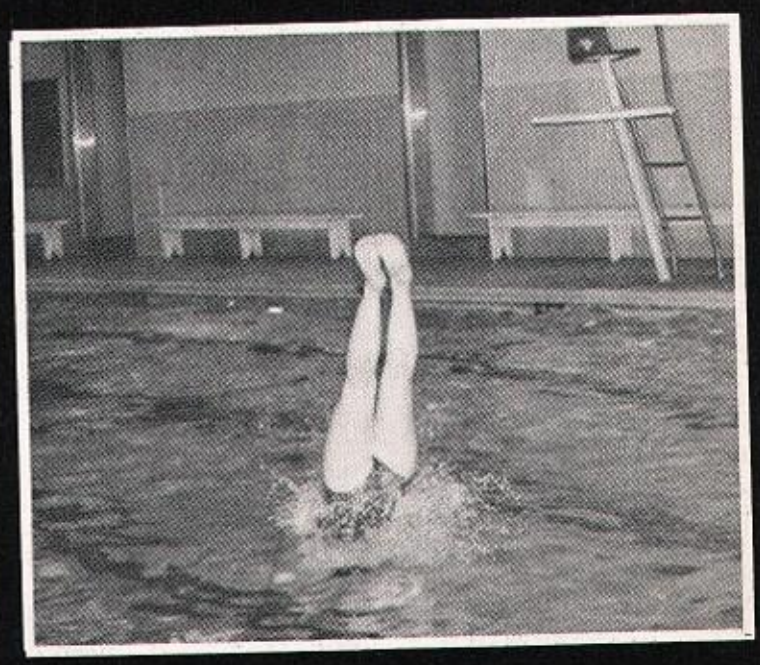
HIGH SCHOOL
1971



HONORS: OUR HOURS OF WORK PAY OFF

UPPER LEFT: Kevin Larison became the second boy to win the Family Leader of Tomorrow Award. CENTER LEFT: Cindy Rutledge, Tom Konechnik, Peggy Stewart, and Richard Hess receive awards from the Danville Junior Chamber of Commerce for scholastic achievements in their perspective classes. BELOW: Bill Miller is the 1974 Outstanding Student Librarian. BOTTOM LEFT: Beth Riggs furthers her career in F.H.A. by serving the state chapter as First State Vice-President. FAR BELOW: Quill and Scroll members are: (BOTTOM ROW) Mrs. Sutton, sponsor; M. Thomas; J. Dill; W. Walker; W. Jayne; (TOP) R. Stewart; A. Clark; J. Thomas; K. Larison; B. Miller and D. Alexander.

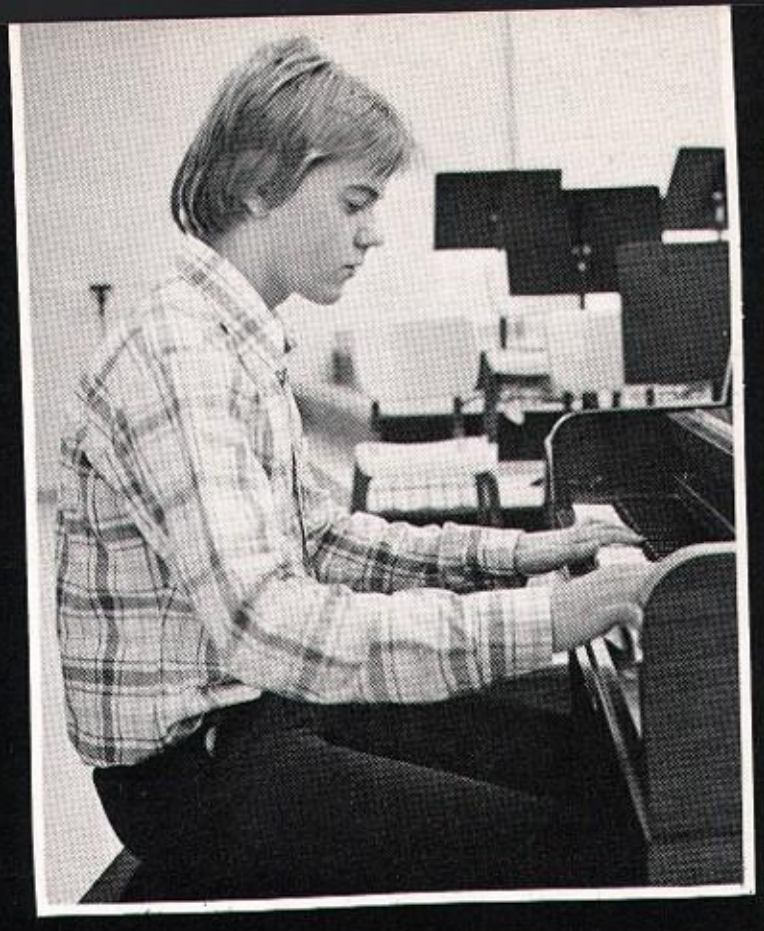
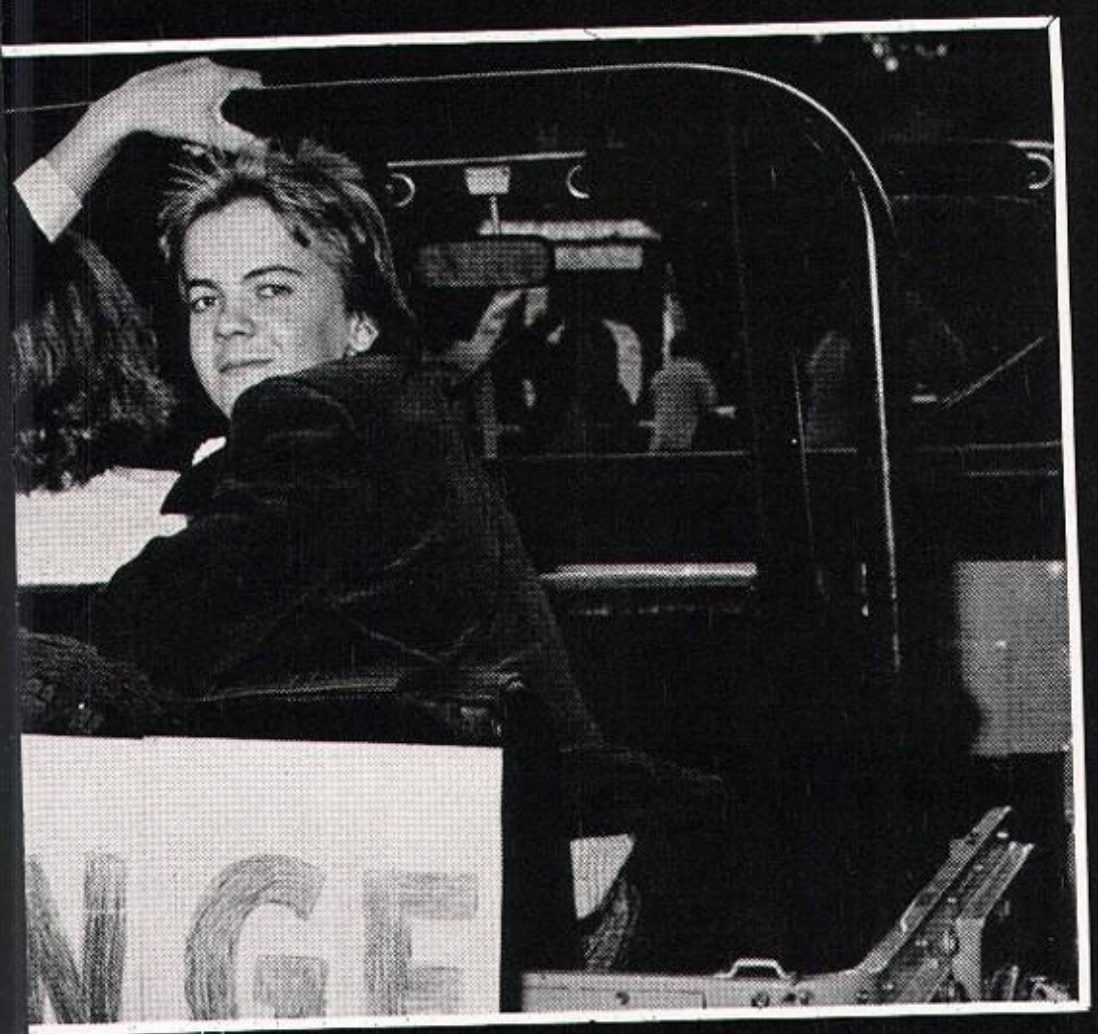
I think this school is well equipped for a general education with shop, a kitchen to learn cooking, a planetarium and a swimming pool. It is nice that there is a possibility to buy a warm lunch at lunchtime. I have made many friends and many people, especially the Frederick's family have taken a friendly attitude towards me.





Being an exchange student has been very instructive, interesting and the most pleasing thing in my life. When I was younger I thought how it would be nice to see things like a funny car race, Indy 500-mile, Disney World, Kennedy Space Center, and things like that are possible now. One thing which has been conspicuous is that all people are so kind to each other and especially to me. I hope I can come back after I have graduated in Finland.

KARI KIVIKOSKI

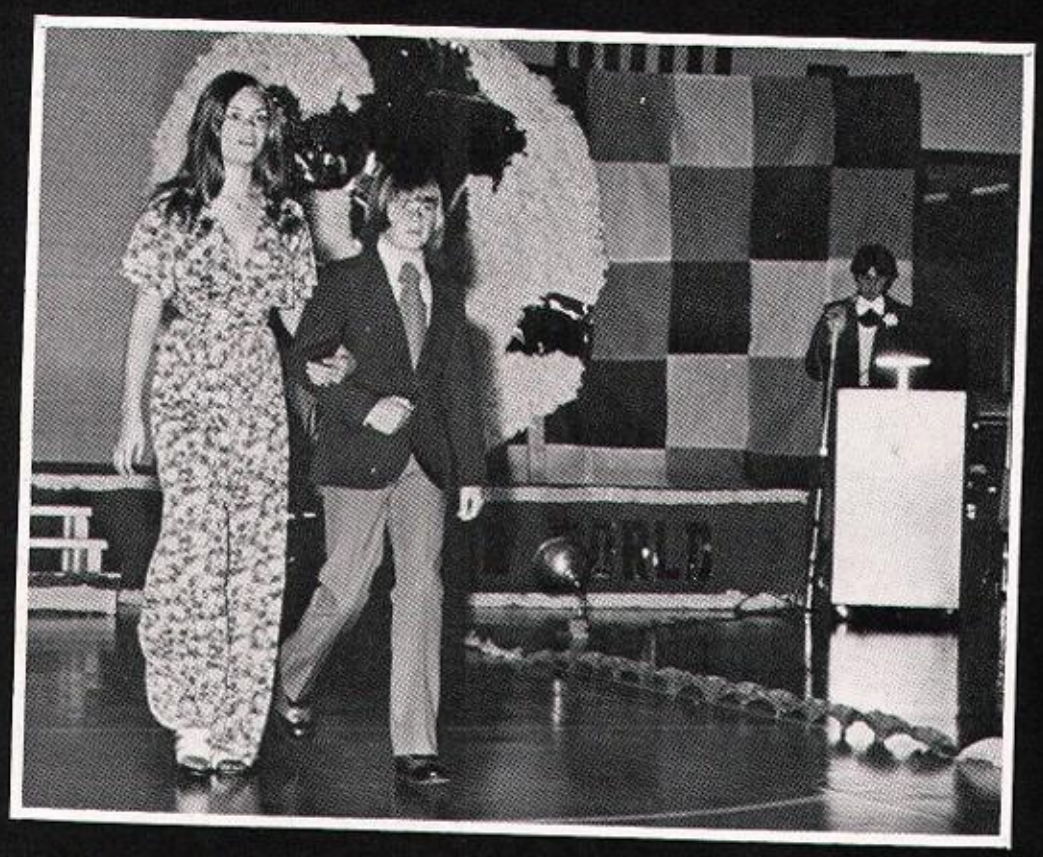
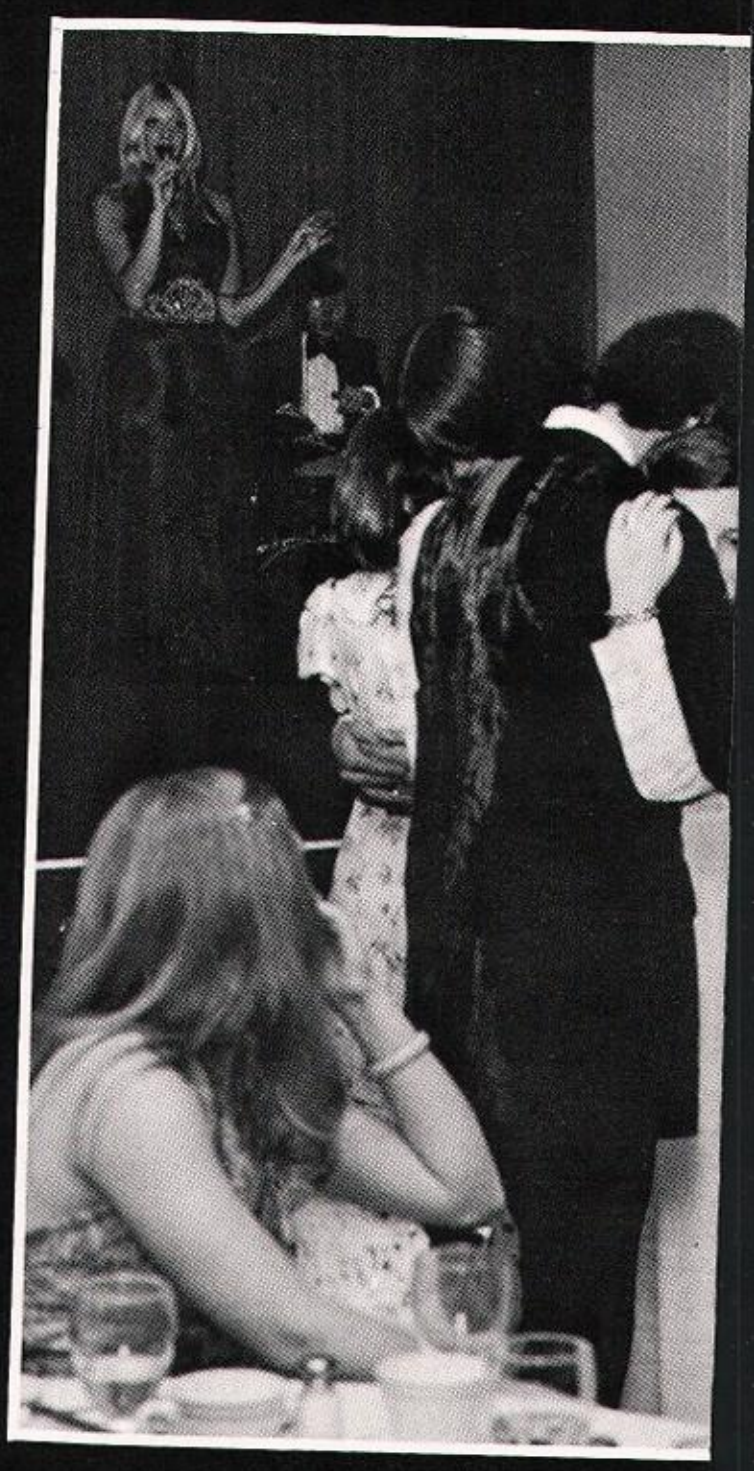
NO ONE FELL DOWN AND ALMOST EVERY-ONE SMILED

We put a lot of effort into decorating for the reception. Besides getting tape stuck to our clothes, a few people tripped over the beautifully finished aisle and ripped the paper. That was when Mrs. Blough's blood pressure rose to a peak! Then the special moment came. We all joined together to proclaim "You and Me Against the World." The seniors remembered how it was those few years ago that seemed like yesterday, and the freshmen stepped into their new world. Then we realized that we were ready to face the future!





PIECES OF APRIL

Parking problems, the glittering Monument Circle, clanging dinner dishes, a vivacious feminine vocalist, danceable music, all created memories of the 1974 Junior-Senior reception. Leaving formals and tuxedos at home after the dance, a transformed group of students garbed in blue jeans and T-shirts enjoyed the annual brunch at the Phi Delts! Most had a short rest before a Sunday picnic.

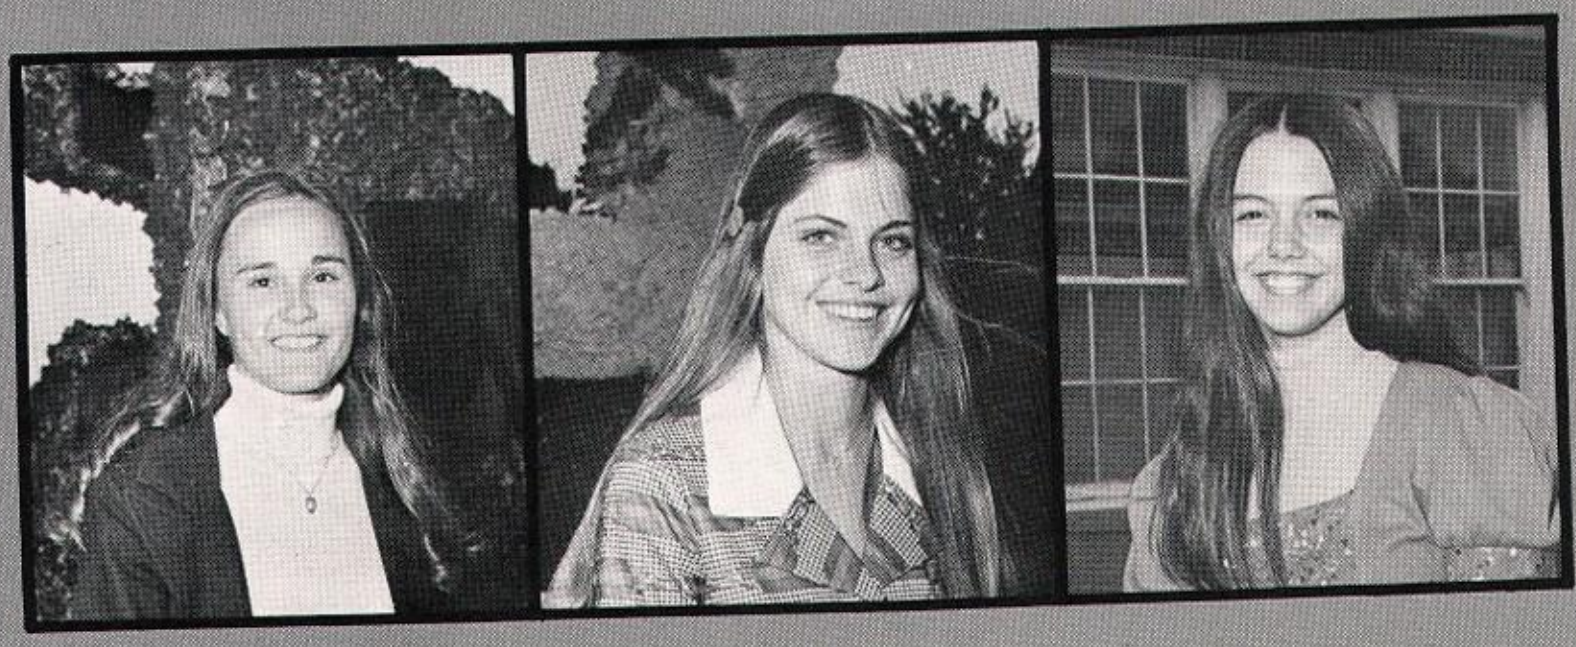
THE GREATEST THING INVENTED SINCE THE FOOTBALL

Thursday 9:30 p.m.: "Staple this one. Scissors? We need more Kleenex, and don't get Puffs!"
Friday 3:00 a.m.: "Son of a gun, I think we're almost done." 7:45 a.m.: "Man, I'm dragging this morning . . . WHAT test?"
12:30: Finally awake. During lunch, the Seniors "be-bopped" to "The Hop;" Juniors dressed in ties and tried to out-yell the seniors; Sophomores did war-dances and Freshmen actually wore their clothes inside out!
2:45 p.m.: Total Chaos! A pep session with the student body screaming so loudly that the Spirit Jug went to the whole school.
5:30 p.m. "Our float will win! Watch it--don't knock anything over! Get away from our float!"
8:00 p.m. Danville Warriors are leading the football game.
9:00 p.m. "Will Mr. Gibbs please come to the press box so we can announce the float winners?"
9:45 p.m. Victory!: The Seniors won the float competition; Juniors' candidate Sherry Trotter won Homecoming Queen and the football team beat Cascade 33-0!
Saturday 12:01 a.m. "I'm going to sleep for the rest of the week-end." Glad we don't have a test on Monday . . . WHAT test?"



ALIVE WITH THE SOUND OF MUSIC

INK AND UNLINED PAPER

"Quick, tell me! What order do my name and date go on this theme . . . What? I didn't fold my paper right?"

"Great day in the morning. After working three months I finally got it done . . . Opps . . . I left it at home and no late papers are being accepted."

There is always a big rush to get English assignments done, but this year it hasn't been the same "humdrum" work English, Speech, Humanities and Journalism classes did a lot of different things like electives, making movies, having personal interviews, stirring up witches brew for "Macbeth," listening to Gregorian chants (sounds like two cats dying). All this doesn't even mention standing in front of thirty eyes waiting for just one "you know," and drawing posters to advertise a favorite paperback.

TEACHER BLOCK: K. Illg, English 11, Speech I, Dramatics; M. Backer, English 9,10; D. Lewis English 9, L. Maron English 10; J. Blough College Prep English, English 12; N. Sutton English 11, Journalism I and II.

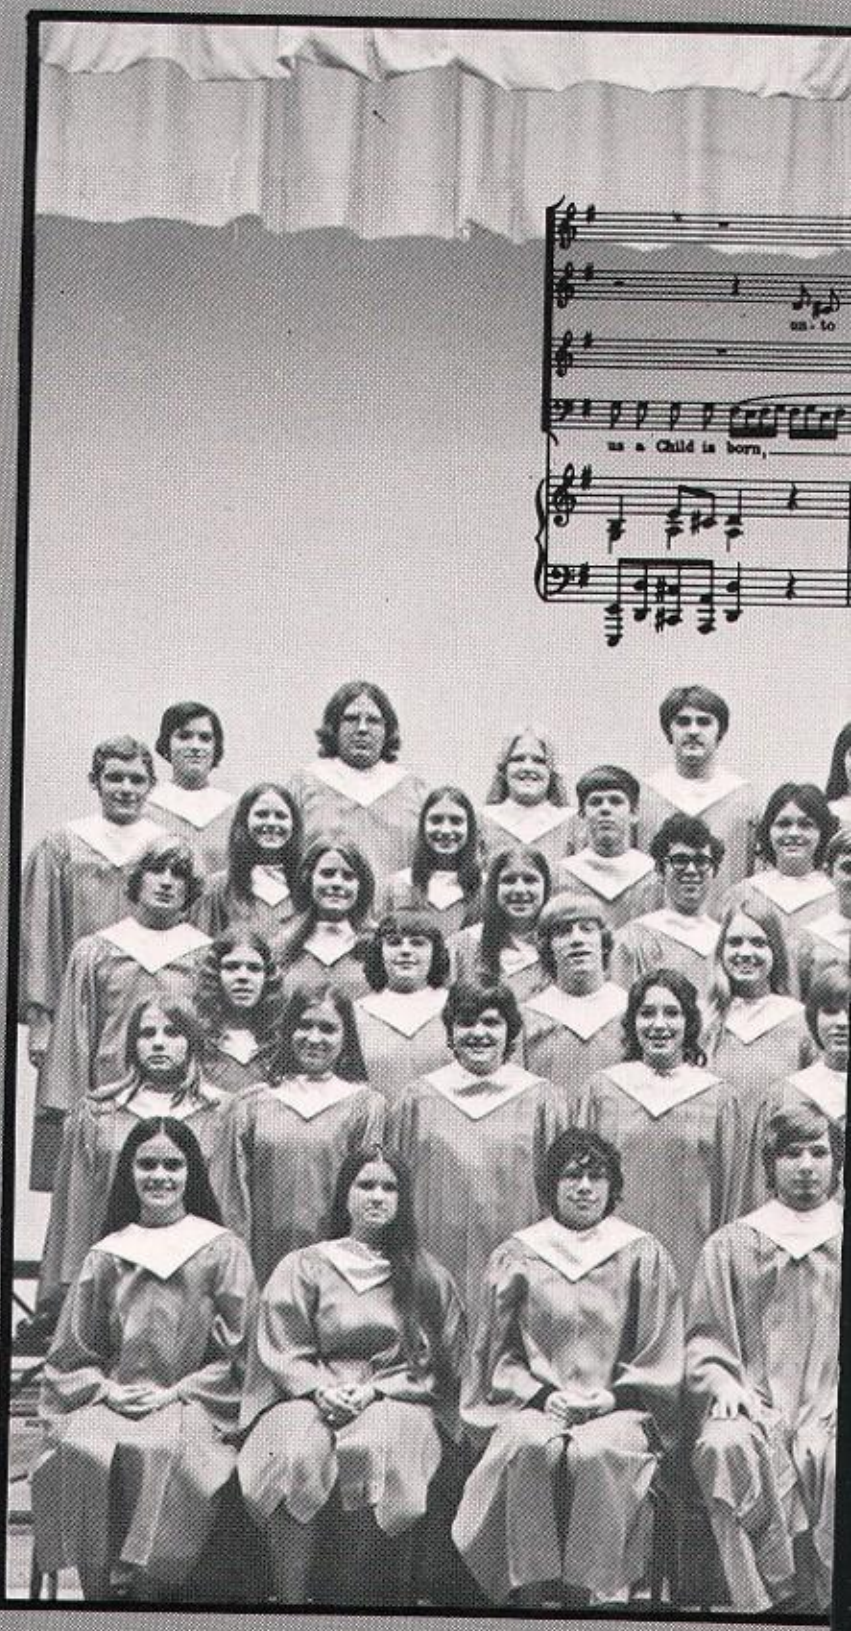
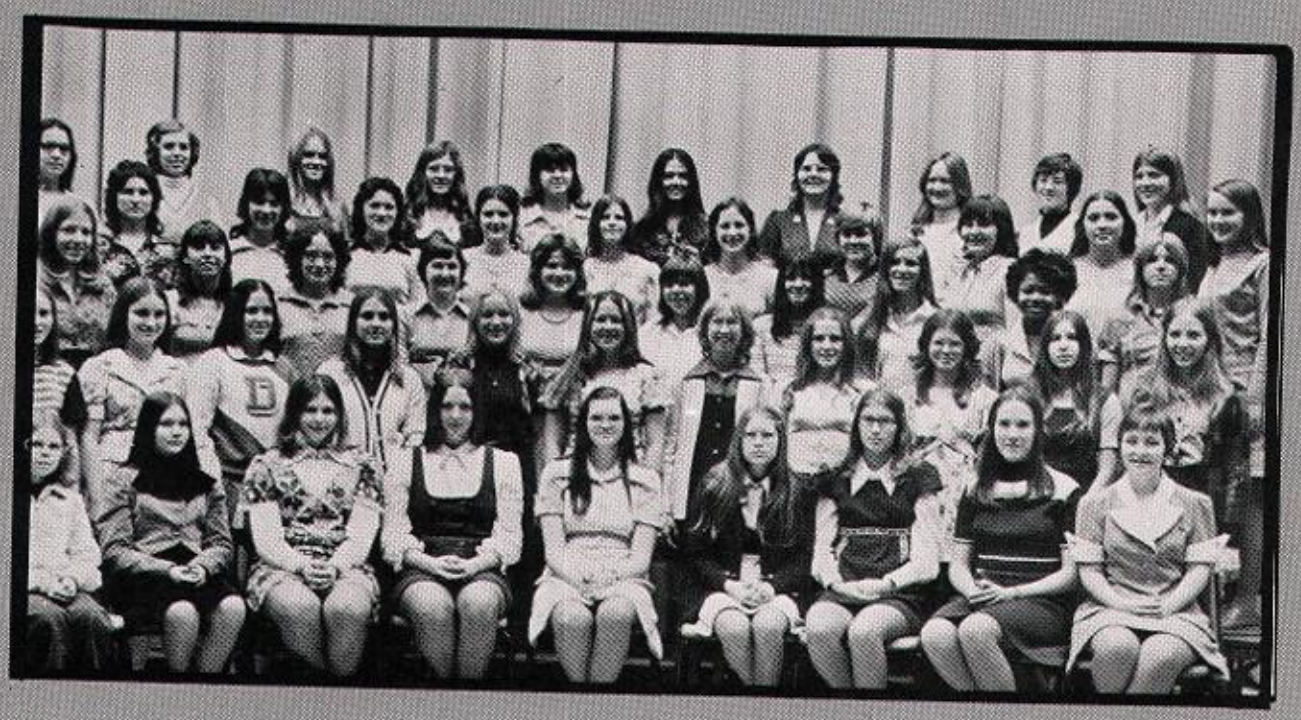
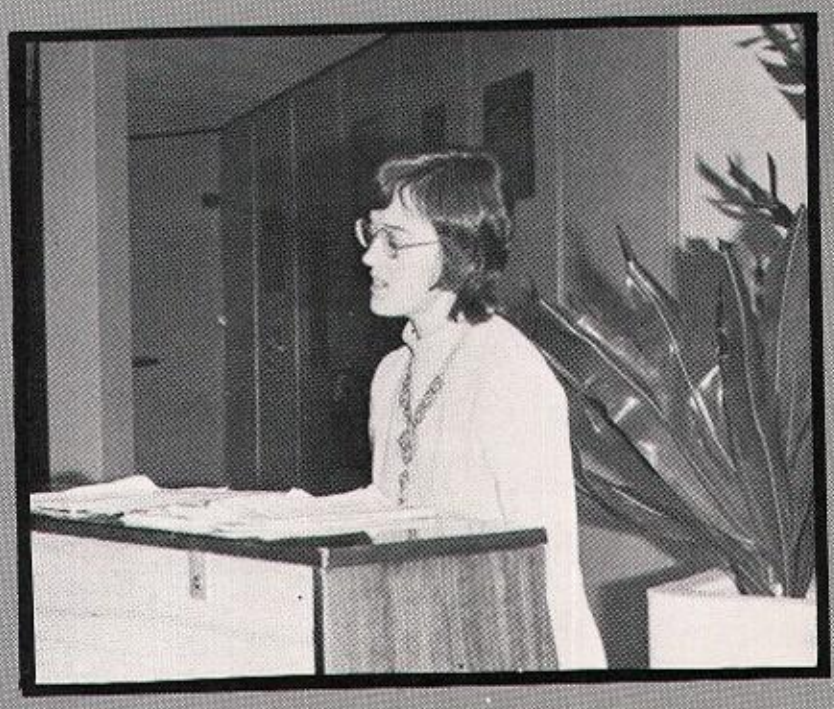
Pride is bringing back a plaque from State Fair and dedication is getting up at 5:00 a.m. in the morning and marching many hours a day. With Mr. Tom Dirks as band director, the Marching Warriors know that nothing is impossible.

Fourteen bright, smiling faces greet enthusiastic fans as they liven up the songs the band plays. Performing, one would never guess that at practice the Highsteppers knock themselves out working for that professional look.



"Scramble!" our illustrous leader "Mama Poy" shouts, and seventy people begin to . . . well . . . scramble! Bumping into one another, happily shoving each other onto the floor, we have had no casualties yet, but we keep trying. All of the choirs have tongue twisting exercises to do. Have you ever tried singing "From the frigid freezing frost, the frightened pheasant flies" while staring at someone who is singing "Through the tall and trembling trees the tired traveler tramped"?





SCRAMBLE ALONG SINGIN' A SONG

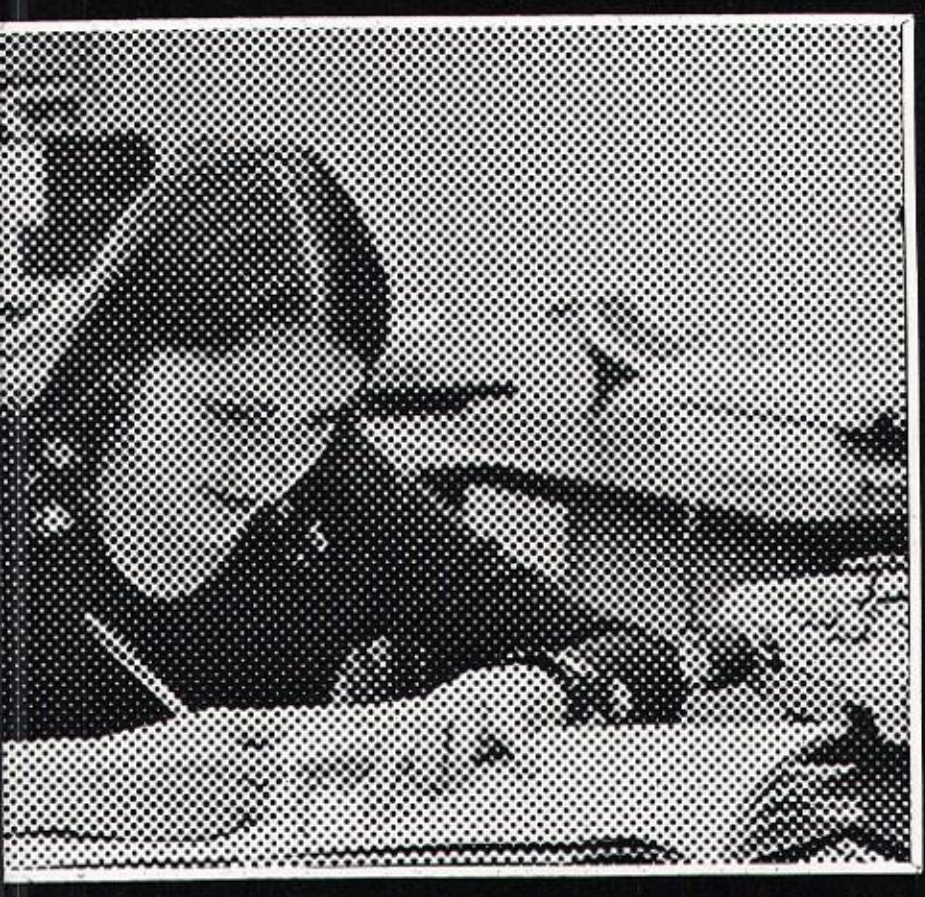
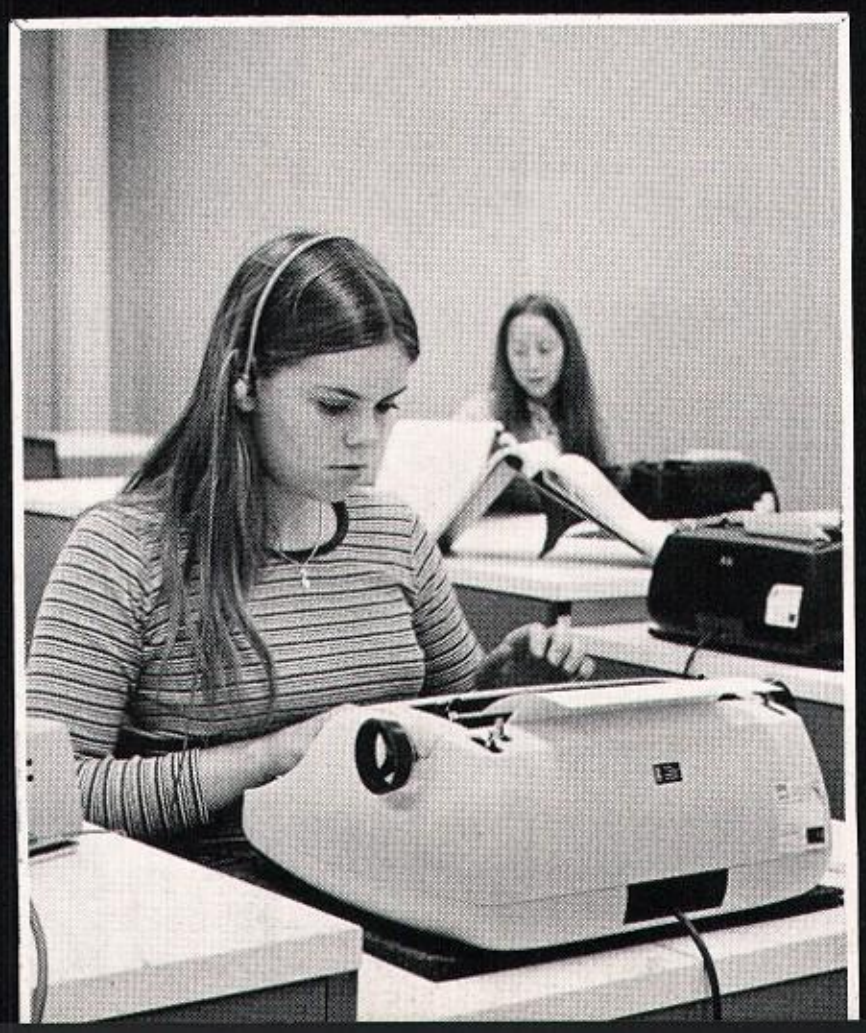
MANY PARTS ARE EDIBLE!

From the first day when we learned how to boil water until the time we prepared a Thanksgiving dinner, we were learning the enjoyments and rewards of cooking. From the first day when we learned how to thread a sewing machine until the time we made a beautiful dress we decided that sewing was worthwhile. From the first day when we learned about how we're supposed to get along with other people until we went to a funeral home and planned our funeral service, we came to the conclusion that life is an important matter.

LEARNED A NEW WORD TODAY: ASDFJKL;

CENTER: "Wow, swiggles can be words!" exclaims Carol Etienne. BOTTOM: "Did that little man really say that?" questions Susie Brooks.





Good afternoon, class. I am your new IBM typewriter. You will be using me in this typing class for the entire year. Sounds like fun, doesn't it? I have many fine features that a manual typewriter never dreamed of having. If you find yourself hitting a "Q", remember that I don't have a moveable carriage. One small disadvantage is the lack of a half-space bar. I'm sure you'll manage. I hope you have a successful year of using me.

TEACHER BLOCK: F. McElwain, Accounting I and II, C.O.P., S.O.P.; D. Davies, Typing I, General Business; E. Porter, Typing I and II, Shorthand I; J. O'Brien, Typing I; P. Rantilla, Clothing I and II, Practical Arts I and II, Family Relations; R. Selsor, Boy's Home Economics, Housing, Audio-Visual; P. Fox, Foods I and II, Experimental Foods, Family Relations.

"GO YOU CHICKEN FAT GO"

PHYS. ED. is--

Taking a shower after your "workout"--
Going to your next hour class with steam coming out of your shirt--
Doing a forward roll and landing backwards --Using Hairspray instead of deodorant-- Forgetting your locker combination--
Making a basket in the opposing team's net--
Putting on the wrong swim suit--
The glory of doing a hand spring after trying for so long.

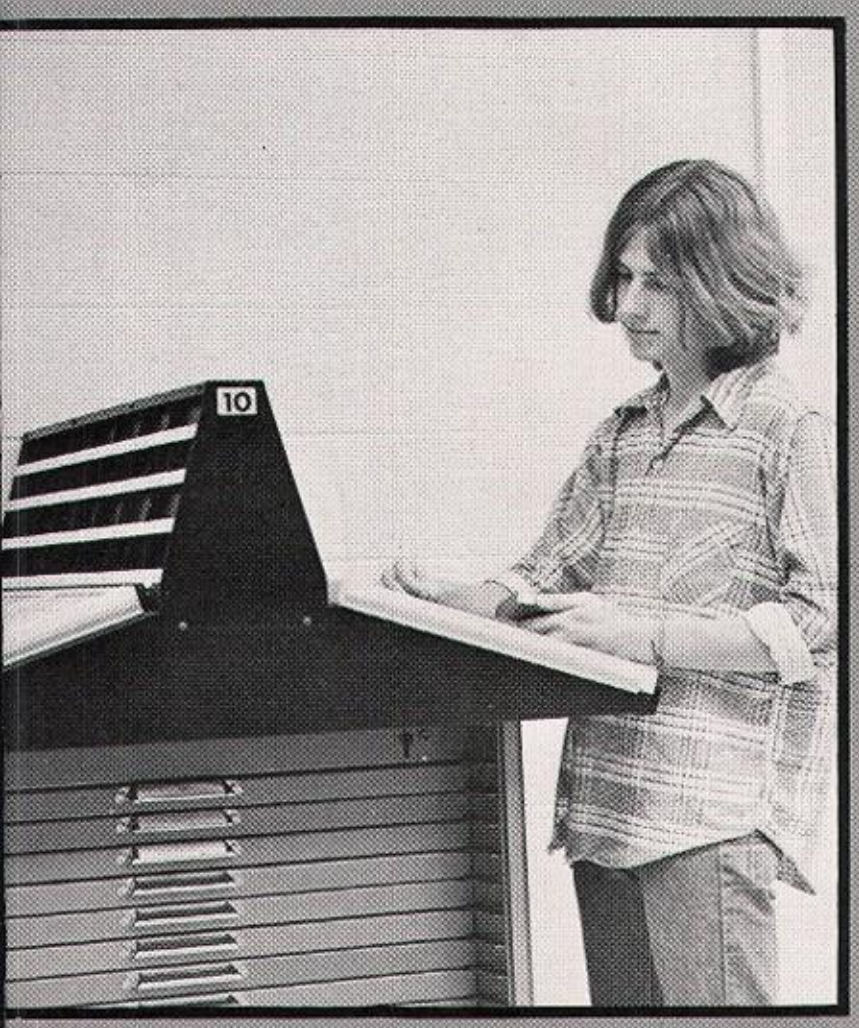
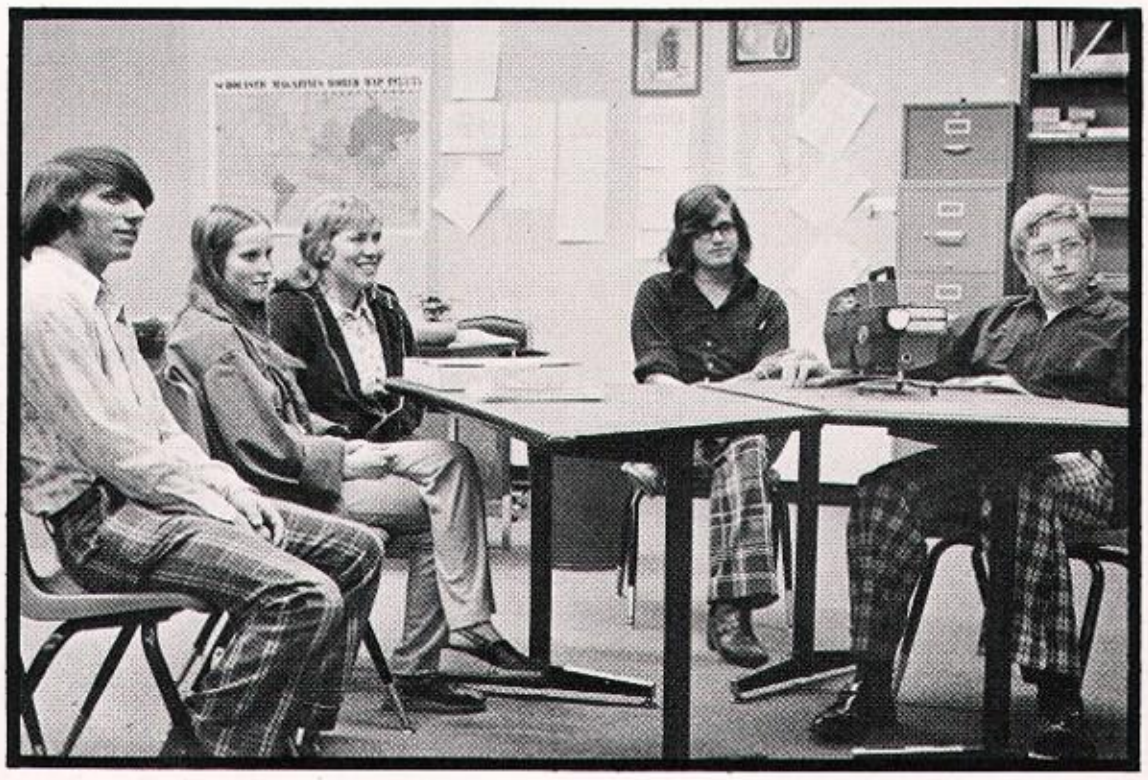
MOTORS, MACHINES, MECHANICS . . .

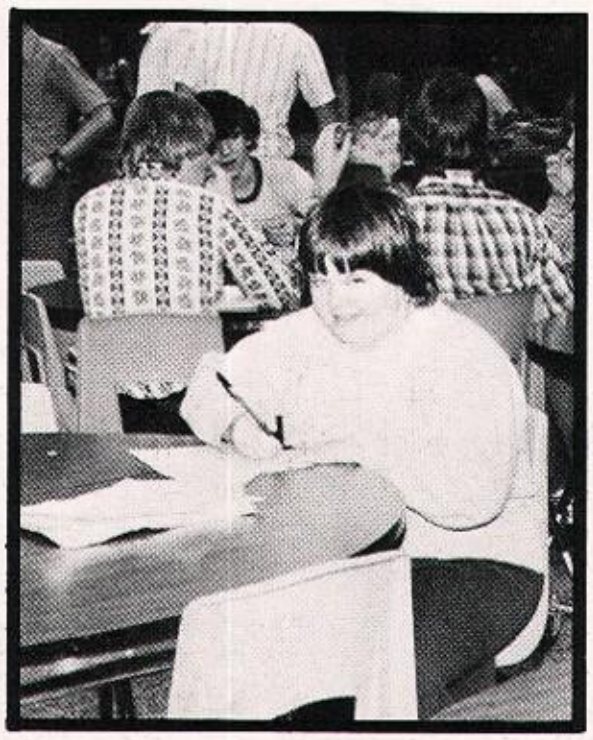
You're looking at an engine that has 454 pieces and you've just put it together with 390 and you start to wonder if you're the type for industrial arts. But never fear, good old DHS will turn you into a mechanical wonder with classes like: Auto Mechanics, Woods, Metals, Plastics and Graphic Arts. The department provides a wide range of skills for persons thinking about a future in the field of industry.



ABOVE: Debbie Cassity proves that Women are slowly working their way into everything!" MIDDLE RIGHT: "Where is that #@+*¢ bolt that was sitting here?" LOWER RIGHT: Steve Callis and Justin Dorsey wonder if they might be putting the blade in backwards?

STUDENTS HAVE GOALS TO REACH IN WORK STUDY





Work Study is very good class because it helps us so much. We want to learn more about things. Mr. Bradshaw is a very good teacher and he is helping us to learn how to get a job. And we even use the cash register so we can learn to give change. We are doing English, math, and we watch some films. We work on books about the states, figure up prices on restaurant checks and work on the Pow Wow. That's what this class is all about.

TEACHER BLOCK: B. Bradshaw, Work Study; K. Thomas, Art I; N. Merrick, Advanced Art. UPPER RIGHT: The Work Study class watches an intriging movie. CENTER: "I sure hope I get this paper done before class," exclaims Paula Michael. LOWER RIGHT: There's nothing better than cleaning around the swimming pool," laughs Bill Alka.

Art is emotional. And sensitive. Sometimes in your frustration and anger you can turn out your best work. Art can be very emotional and there are a million ways to show each one. It is totally experimental, creative, and a way of reproducing a part of yourself. Art offers many different areas of study barely touched. How about tin-can creations, junk sculptures, self-made jewelry, or paper sculpturing? It's a lot of hard work, but the results and satisfaction are worth every bit of perspiration.

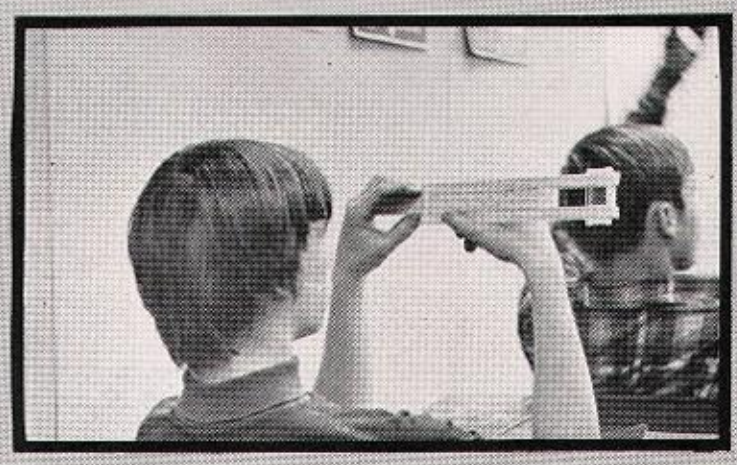
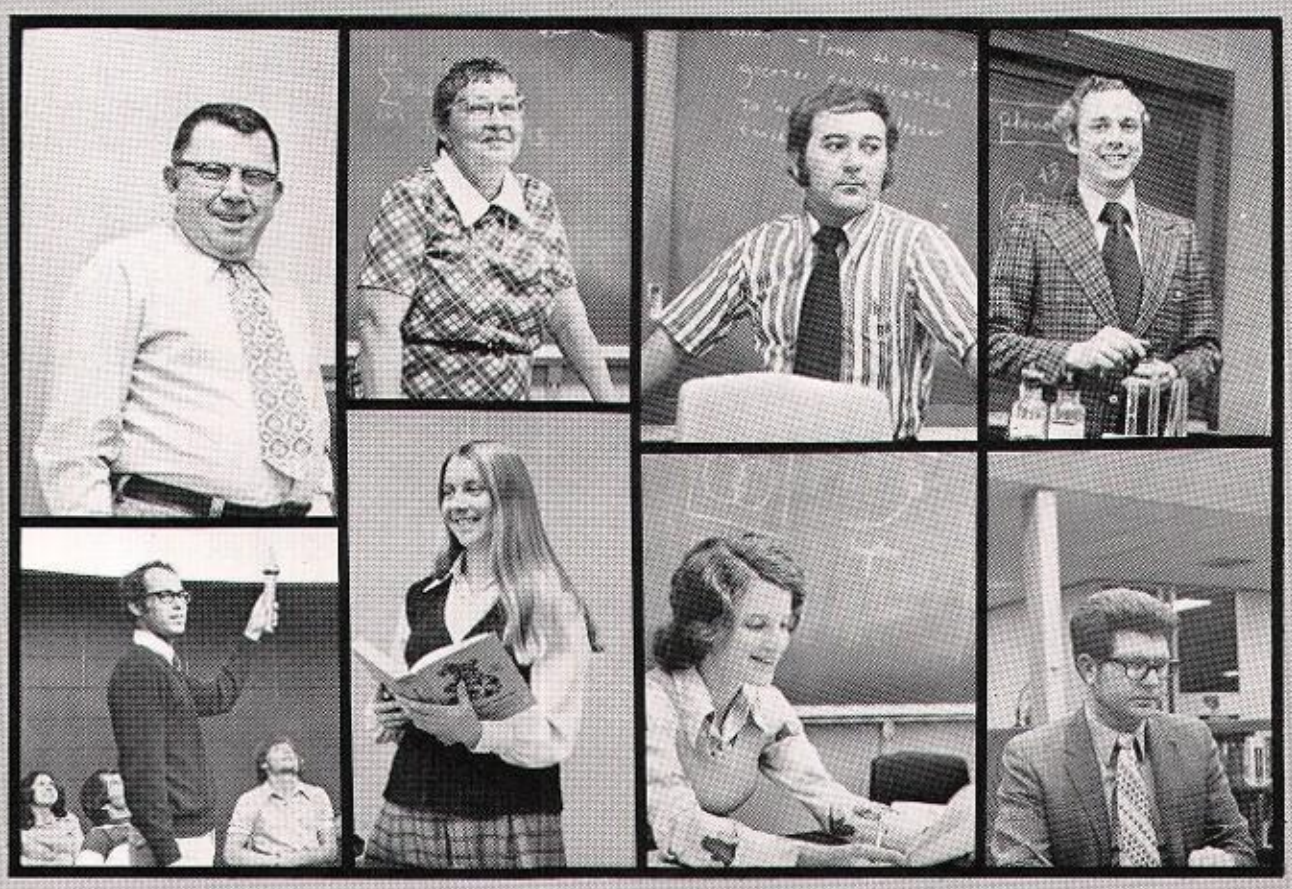
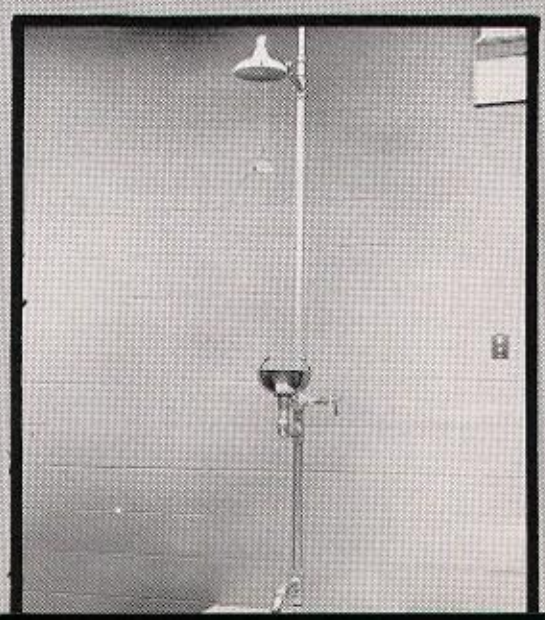
ART MEANS: "DOING YOUR OWN THING"





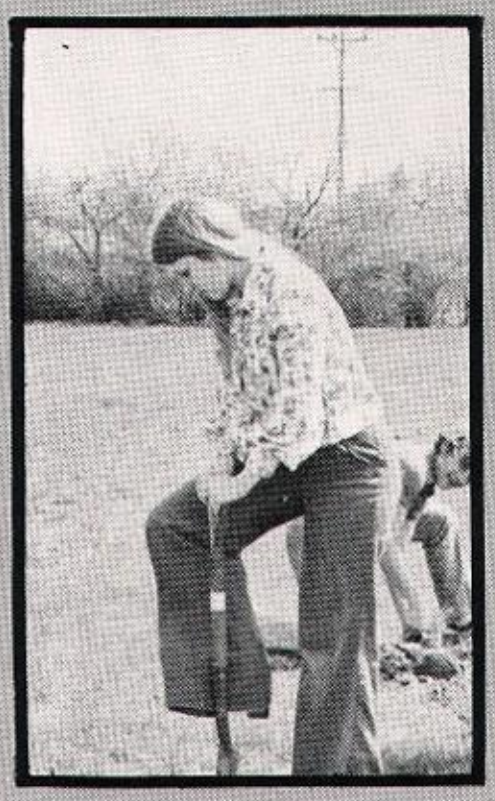
TEACHER BLOCK: R. Kirts, Physics, Chemistry, Advanced Chemistry; R. Helton, Algebra I, Analysis; J. Rushin, C.P. Biology, Advanced Biology; H. Emmert, Gen. Physical Science, College Prep Physical Science; T. Long, Geometry, Sr. Practical Math, Astronomy; C. Wills, Advanced Algebra, Trigonometry; M. Wagoner, General Math, Algebra I; L. Little, Basic Biology, Health.



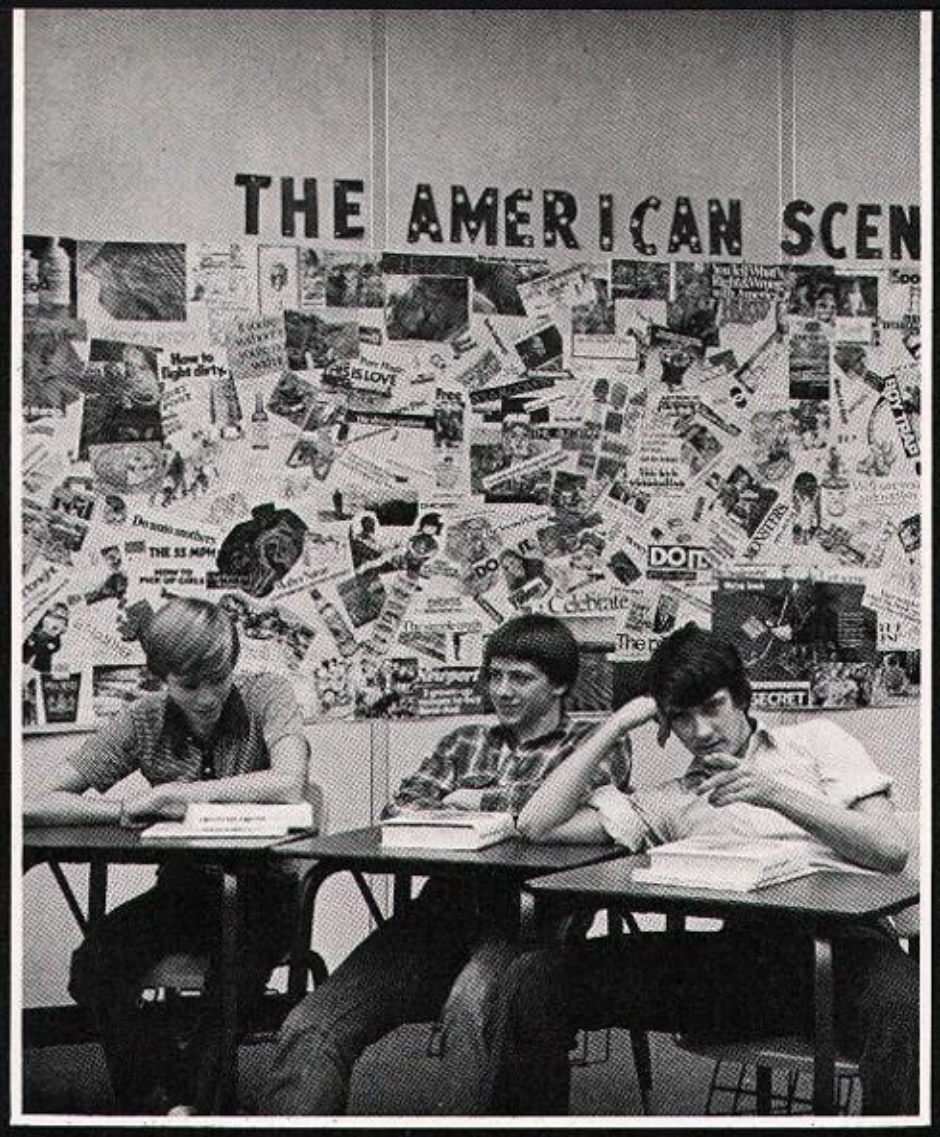
In great anticipation we filed into the pitch black room where the mysteries of the universe were unveiled to us. On the way out, we made another discovery . . . cramped necks.

Where are those beakers I have to have? . . . Oh, oh . . . is that another gas leak or did you leave the valve open? Listening to the Frosh groan over their frogs . . . Having to do the whole lab over . . . Getting acid all over the pants you bought the day before . . . Forgetting your chemical symbols . . . HCl? ClH? or was it? . . . Such are the problems in the wonderful world of science.

The axiom of the Math Department: For every real problem (a) there is an unique and wrong answer (a) such that if used, you get a unique real problem wrong!

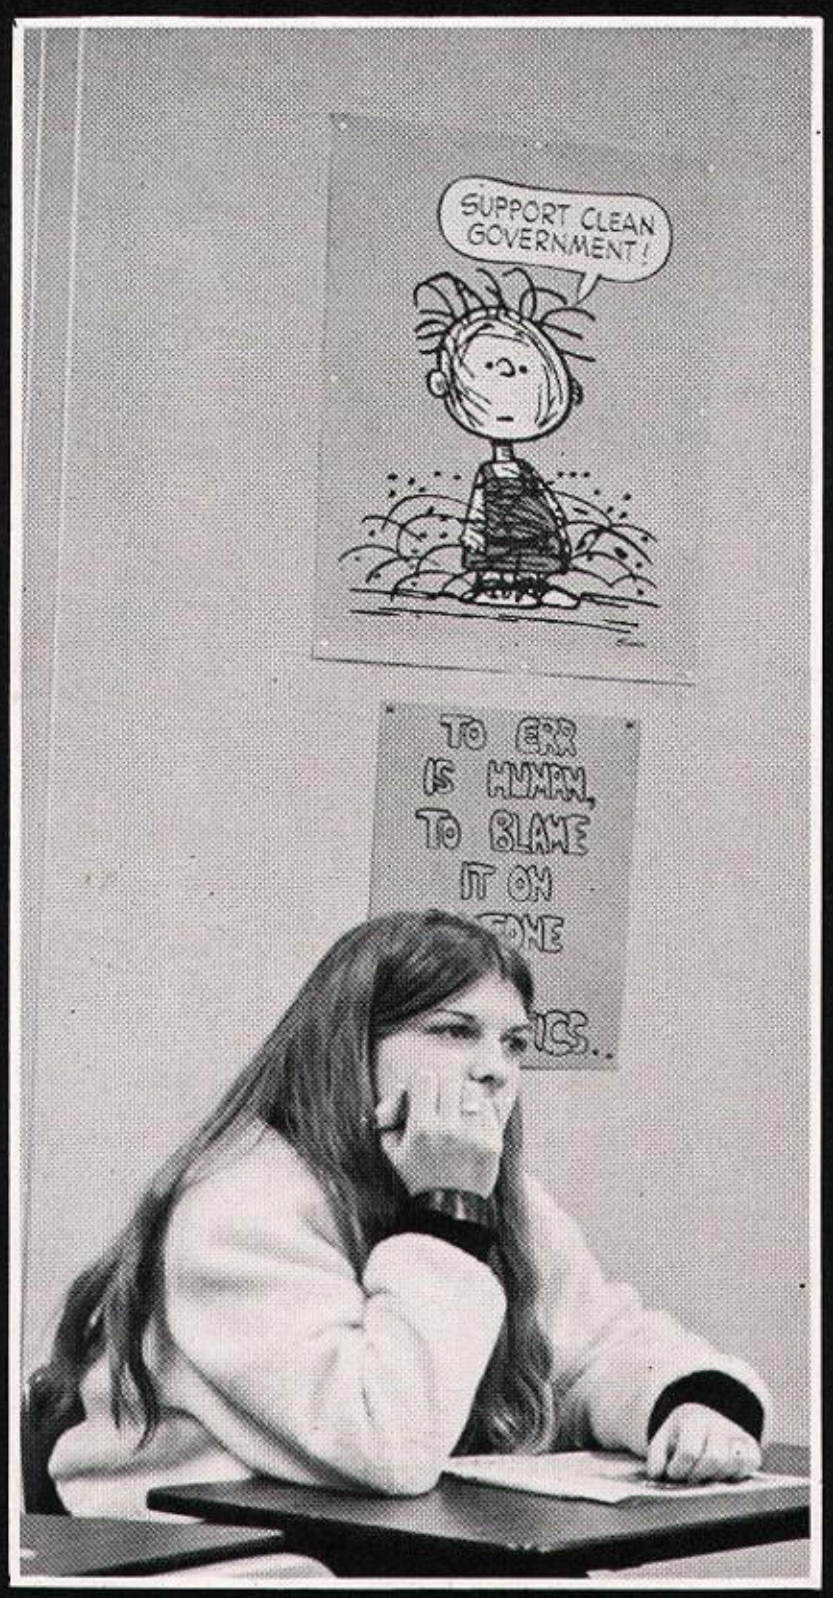


UPPER LEFT: Now this is a fine example of geometric art. MIDDLE LEFT: While you dummies are working it out on paper, I'll have the answer in 3 seconds with my SR50 calculator. LEFT: Aren't you glad you took a shower, don't you wish everybody did. UPPER RIGHT: John, are you sure it won't explode if we use YOUR formula. ABOVE: I'm glad I decided not to wear a dress today!



AMERICAN GRAFFITI

Not only are there things to learn and listen to, there are things to be seen in the Social Studies Department. Health students walk into class and stare at the decrepit skeleton in the corner of the room. Mr. Harmon's shelves are always an amazing mess. Walking by Mrs. Sneider's room one can hear a continual buzzing. Mr. Scudder's students continually stare at the exit door while Mrs. McColgin's students stare out the window. "American Graffiti" wins out!



A NEW LOOK IN LANGUAGES

Learning a new language is like going back to childhood days and learning how to talk all over again. About the time you have the language labeled "facile," the teacher announces that today you are going to learn something new, and then you get confused all over again. Only a person taking a language class can understand the feeling of glory when the teacher doesn't look at you quizically as you try to recite: "Esta Suzanna en casa? Si, esta con una amiga."

TEACHER BLOCK: B. Rogers, Spanish I, French I,II,III, and IV; D. Harmon, Economics, U.S. Government; V. Sneider, U.S. History, World History; T. Mitchell, Spanish I,II, German I, II; W. Scudder, Psychology, U.S. History; A. McColgin, U.S. Government, Citizenship.

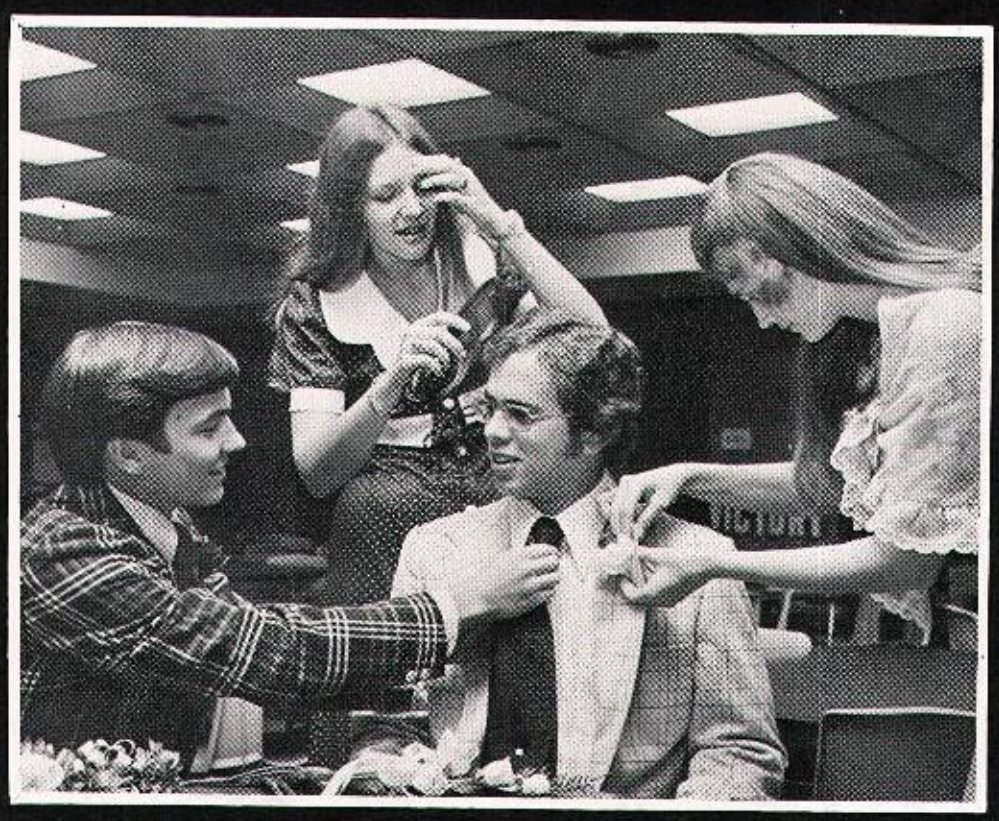
RICHARD O. YORK



My mind is clearer now. I have my goals and ambitions in my mind, and confidence that I will achieve them. But the time passed so quickly. The friends I've made will go their way and I may never see them again. I may leave DHS soon, but I have one thing that no one can take away, and that's memories. There's a whole future waiting for me, but there's a past that will never be forgotten.

CLUBS

Time passes much too quickly when we're together, laughing . . .

Robert Lamm

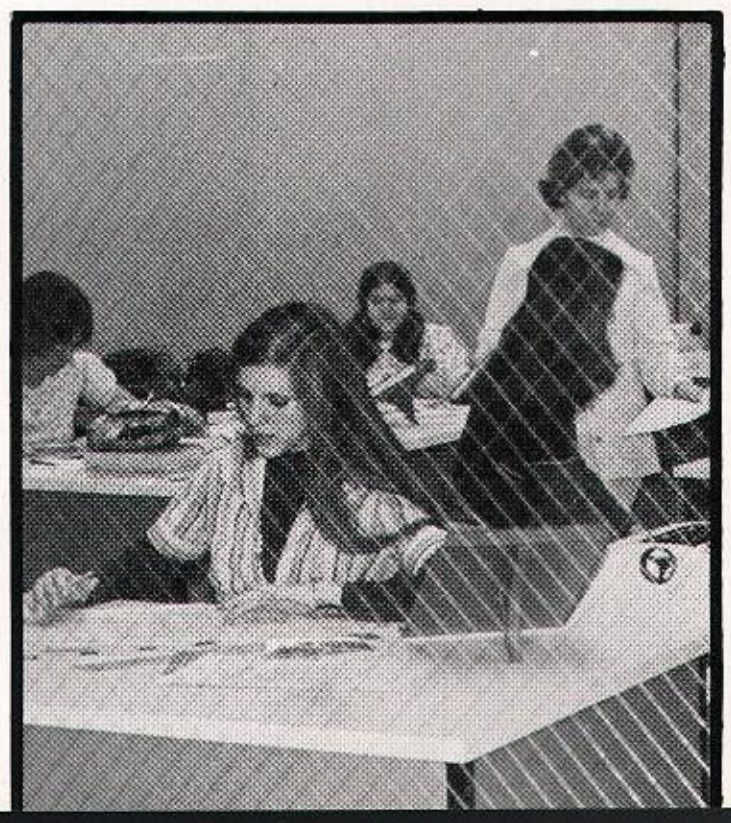
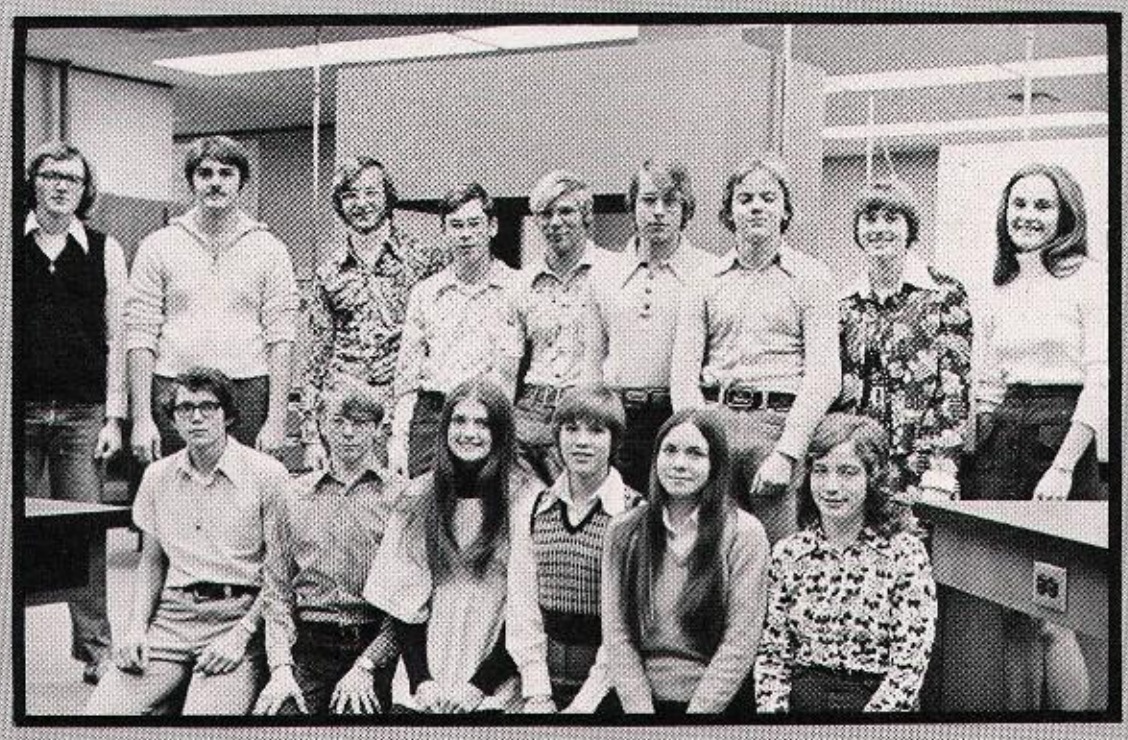
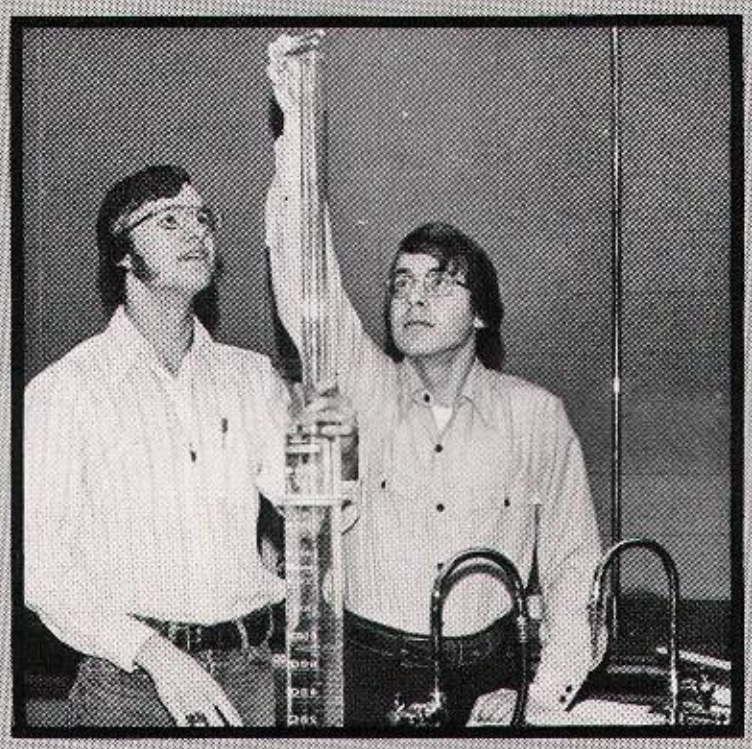
TOM TOM: AN UNFORGETTABLE ADVENTURE

No matter how hard we worked, those deadlines came closer and closer. Staring at a blank page with an equally vacant mind, taking unsuspecting victims' pictures, and trying to be creative when our layout had to be done in a hour are all experiences to remember about working on the yearbook. Years from now, sitting in my electric rocking chair, I'll probably flip through the pages laughing at the funny hair styles and clothes. Some of the memories, adventures and experiences of the past are captured in my yearbook.

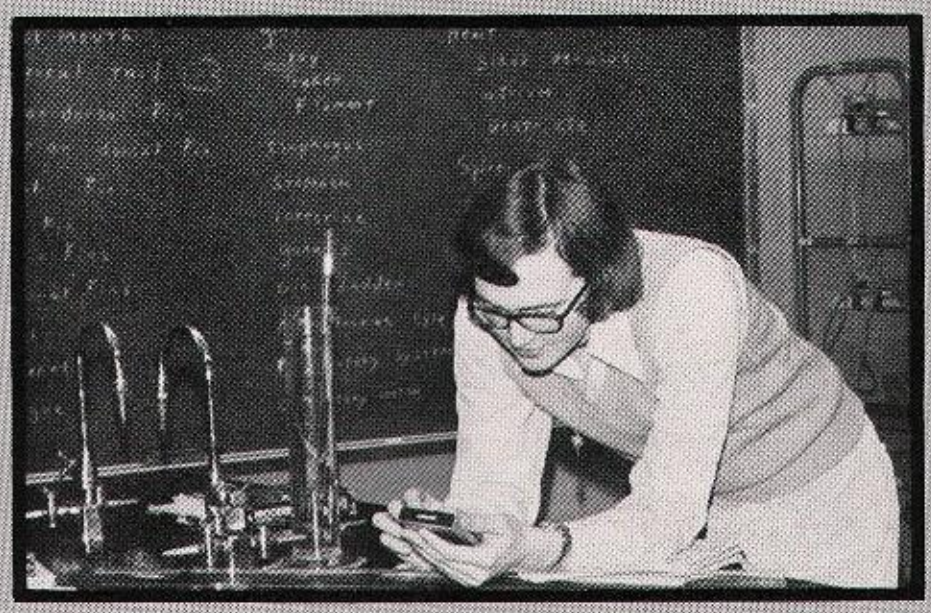




MASTER MINDS



If you were to sit in on a Science Club meeting, you might hear something like: "Paper boats can be propelled by soap flakes." One can never really learn too much about science. It is always changing. Science Club members probe deeper into science, examine their own interests and learn more about the fascinating universe in which we live.

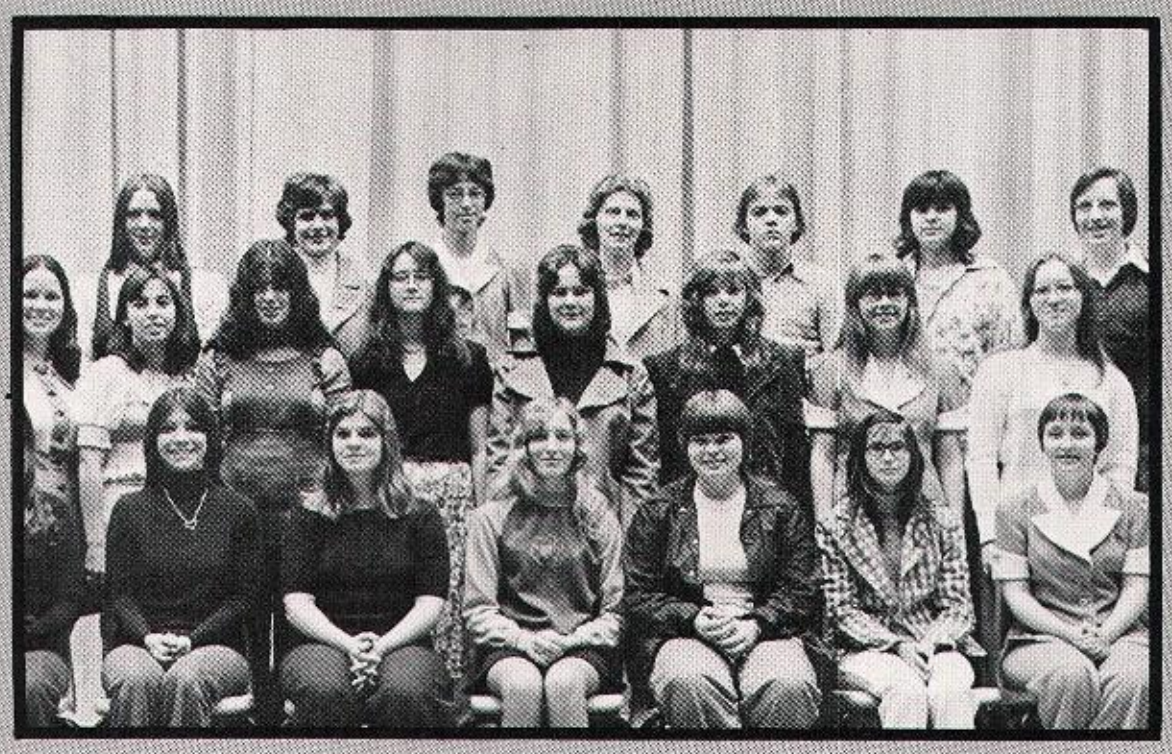


UPPER LEFT: Mr. Kirts, Sponsor of the Science Club always enjoys playing . . . experimenting with the equipment. TOP: SCIENCE CLUB. CENTER: What does this prove? CENTER LEFT: If this explodes I'm leaving. ABOVE: With this amazing new calculator I can zip through any problem. Now if I could only set it up . . .

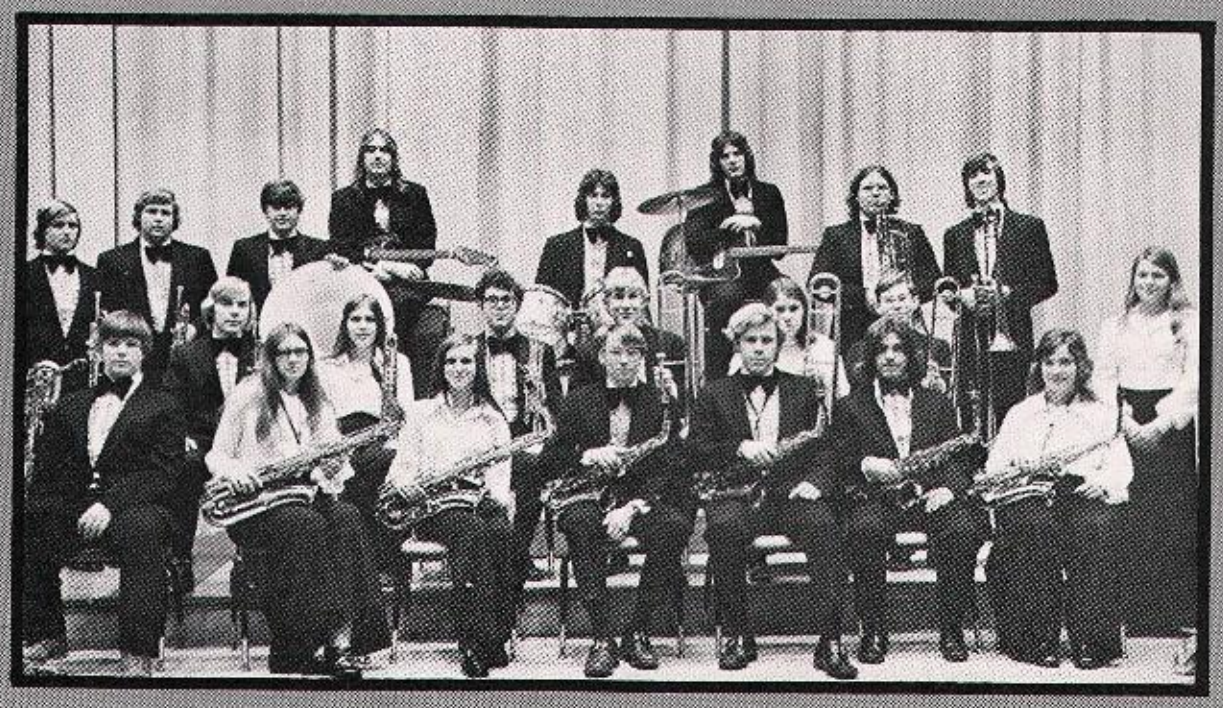
A month did not go by without some project for FHA. Visiting nursing homes, making tray favors, delivering baskets of fruit . . . it added up to action and involvement for all members. Some discovered the pains of being a salesperson for the first time. Others, being old pros, knocked on doors clutching their Stanley products with confident smiles.

The club was striving for a special achievement, to be part of the Honor Chapter. Getting involved . . . that's exactly what the club has done all year.

GETTING INVOLVED



TOP: FHA officers. CENTER RIGHT: You know the full meaning of giving when people write a letter of thanks. ABOVE: These are the girls who have made the club come alive this year. RIGHT: FHA members are getting ready to lend their hearts to the rest of the school during FHA week in February.



ON . . .
WITH THE SHOW

The Jazz Ensemble, Les Chanteurs and Les Amies experienced a year full of many performances and even more rehearsals. The rhythms and routines never failed to puzzle us. At times a throat that felt like sandpaper felt normal. Some decided they'd probably graduate with scars on their lips while others worried about getting arthritis in their fingers. Turning at the wrong time or being a half-step off was difficult to cope with--not to mention stage fright. But when the curtains rolled back, the lights went down and the music started, we knew the show must go on.

UPPER LEFT: I think I need ten more fingers. UPPER CENTER: JAZZ Ensemble won a perfect "first" in Division II at State Jazz Band Contest. The members are J. Calhoon; D. Babcock; C. Smitherman; R. Snodgrass; K. Martin; M. Pierson; L. Vernon; D. Rawlings; J. McNabb.

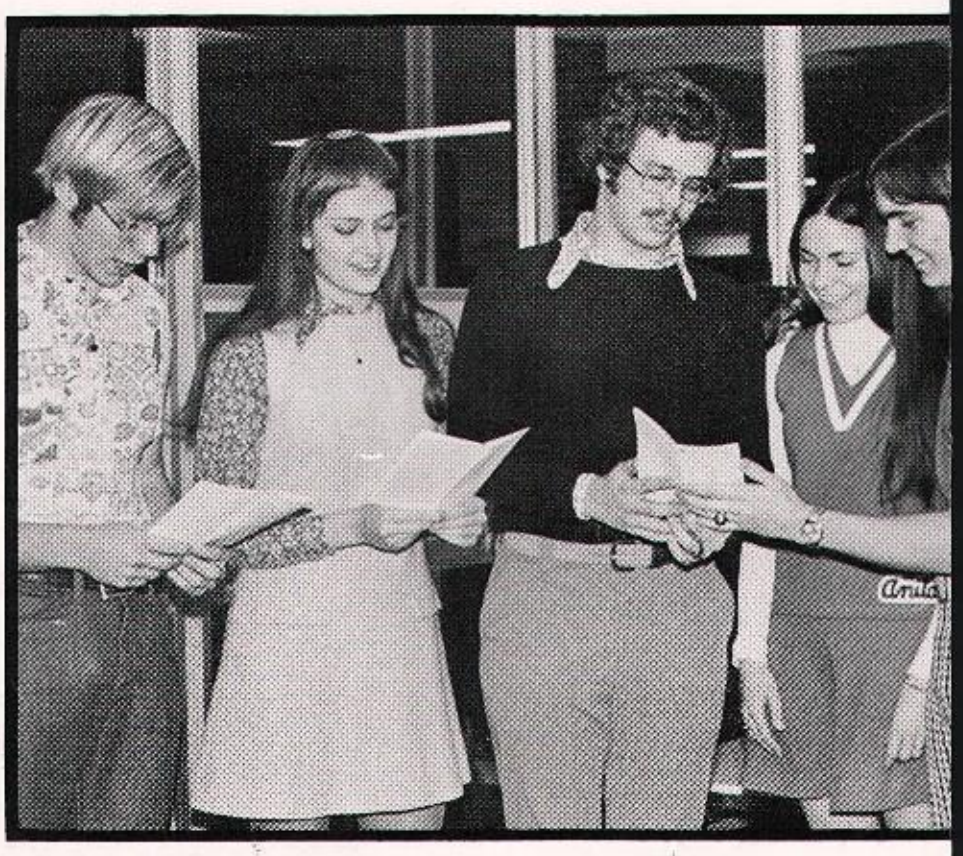
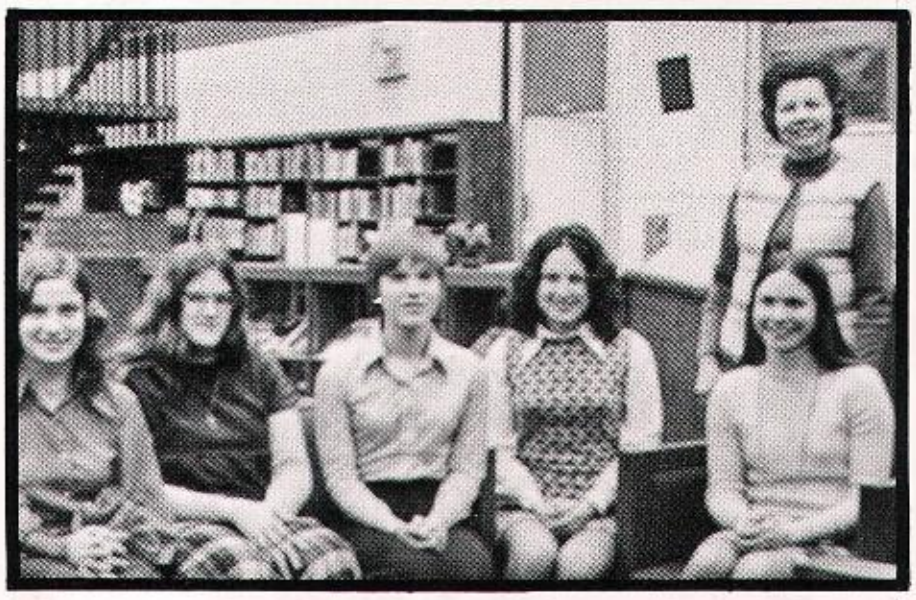
Be more concerned with your character than with your reputation, because your character is what you really are, while your reputation is merely what others think you are.





HI-Y-MEMBERS: ROW ONE: K. Davis; S. Turner; G. Varvel; B. Miller; B. Pope. ROW TWO: R. Riggs; G. Weaver; J. Simpson; J. Saddler; J. Geter; G. Gulley; K. Kivikoski; R. Hess; R. Torbeck; B. Sutton.

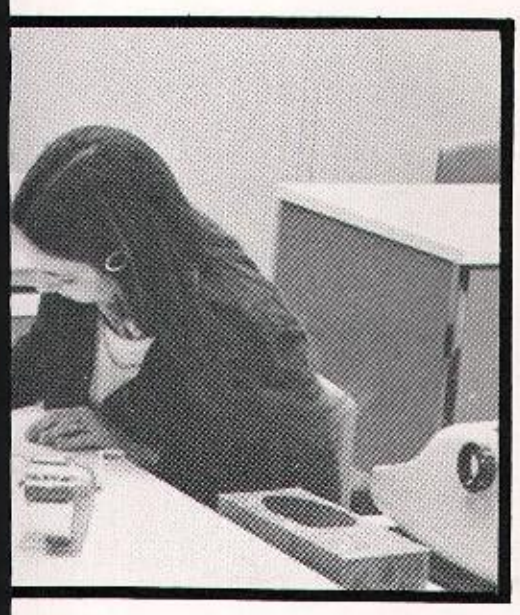
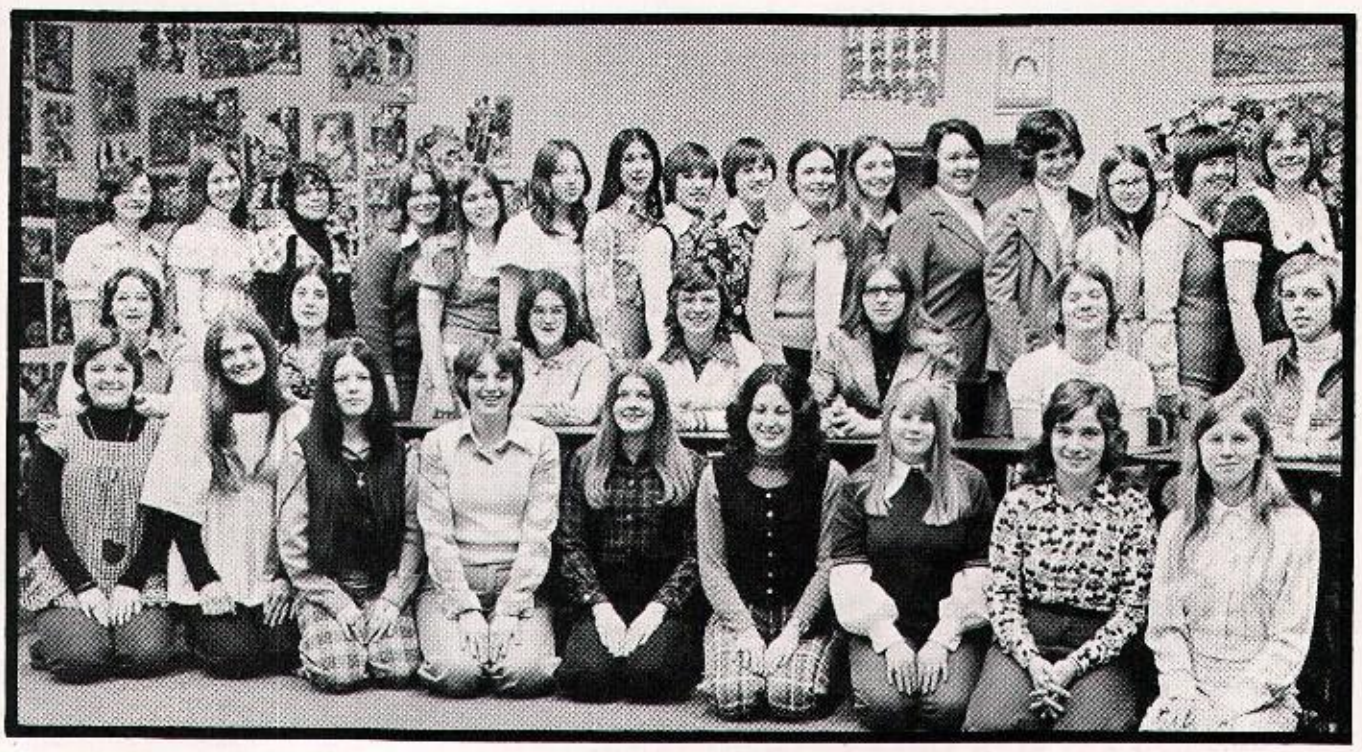
TRI A LITTLE KINDNESS

To be perfectly honest I was a little wary of Tri-Hi-Y at first. How could I be so good and kind ALL the time? The way some kids talked, I thought the officers ran around with a pointer in one hand and a hatchet in the other ready to pounce on my every fault. I joined, though, and I was greeted with kindness and an all-around love for life. Instead of a pointer the members extended friendship. Instead of a hatchet, understanding. In -an atmosphere like that, it is easy to be considerate of others. It helps teach us how we can cope in our future lives when things won't be so perfect.





TRI-HI-Y: ROW ONE: S. Keen; B. Terrill; B. Smith; B. Kerlin; J. Gibbs; C. Corbitt; J. Martin; D. Draper; D. Rodney. ROW TWO: P. Purdy; C. Leondis; I. Robb; N. Powers; D. Babcock; A. Buckholz; T. Robertson. ROW THREE: P. Stewart; C. Clayton; S. Luhman; S. Singleton; K. Nichols; J. Rumple; M. Draper; C. Collings; M. Comer; A. Wiggam; B. Gill; M. Mowrer; B. Riggs; L. Clayton; E. Oglesby; M. Yeager.

At 6:45 a.m. in the morning, the cold wind was blowing, the sun was still in bed, but the DHS speech team was up and waiting for someone to come and pick our frozen bodies up and take us to IUPUI for this year's first speech meet. Things began to fall into proper order upon arrival. Everyone started running around asking questions, memorizing speeches and a lot of things ran through our rusty minds. We were all nervous, but we pulled ourselves together when the time came to be judged. On the way home we had thoughts of both inadequacies and pride; and we realized that this was all a part of being a team.

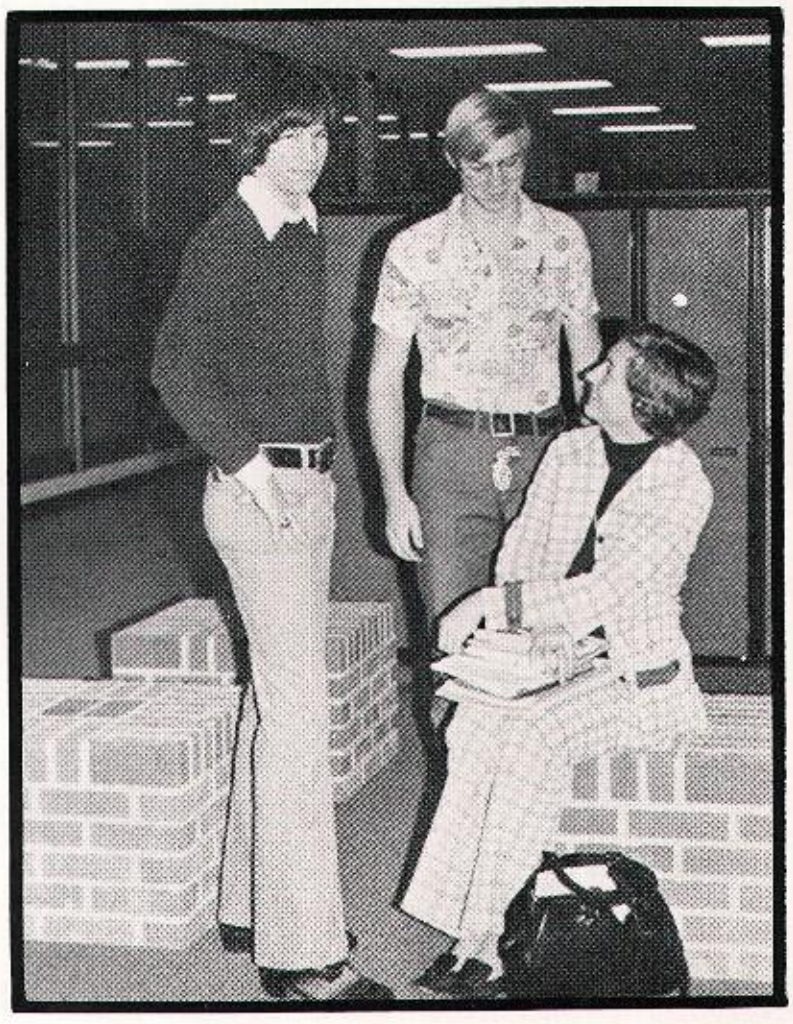
THE WORKING BI-WEEKLY

Working on the Pow Wow means slaving over a hot typewriter until 7:30 Monday nights and then dragging ourselves down to the B.C. for dinner. It means drawing straws to see who gets stuck working the headliner. It can be a source of pride when our stories are in print or a source of embarrassment when a big mistake is found after distribution. But mostly, it is a way for a group of people to learn how to work together.



CENTER LEFT: Working hard, Bill Jayne wraps up another article for the newspaper. ABOVE: At Pow Wow work sessions there is always something going on! UPPER RIGHT: Without typists like Becky Gill, the paper would not go to press. RIGHT: Advisor Mrs. Sutton and Bill Miller make plans for the deadline while Gary Varvel gets his picture taken. WARRIORS BREAK EVEN DESPITE INJURIES

The 1974 football campaign will always be remembered as a roller coaster season with many ups and downs. In quest of a playoff berth in their last year of Class A ball, the Warriors burst onto the scene with two quick wins. However, beginning with a loss at the hands of Plainfield, mounting injuries brought frustration and more defeat to the struggling Warriors. They began a slow recovery midway through the season as Homecoming brought the third straight victory in the annual contest. The remainder of the season brought both excitement and disappointment as the team finished with a 5-5 record. For the fans it was a year of warm cokes, cold coffee, marching bands, and lots of exhausting cheering. It was the players, though, who really benefited. Along with the joy of "rockin' around the clock" they learned the meaning of good sportsmanship toward both friend and foe alike.

RESERVES BATTLE WAY TO 4-5 MARK

This year's reserve team had a goal of playing well while gaining experience for future varsity action. This they succeeded in, despite being hurt because they had no steady quarterback. After an impressive opening season victory over an always powerful Speedway team, the Warriors dropped three straight games before coming back to soundly defeat Whiteland and squeaking by Greencastle in overtime. Many of these reserve players look promising for future varsity action.

GREEN FRESHMEN RIPEN WITH EXPERIENCE

CLOCK RUNS OUT ON TOUGH SEASON FOR TRIBE

Picking, rolling, and moving to the rhythmic beat of ball against the floor--that's the basketball players' style, and the warrior cagers know all about it. They feel every point, they live every foul, losses hurt, and the hope for victory erases all the frustrations of long hours of practice and heart breaking defeats. The warriors provided vivid bursts of action with a rip and run style of play that should have provided a few more wins. The character shown by this year's warrior quintet didn't move them into first place in the standings but it put them very near the top with the people who follow DHS basketball.

HARD WORK BRINGS LUCK FOR WARRIOR FIVE

This year's Freshman team showed promise for the future basketball program. Throughout their up and down season, the young Warriors matured and learned what it was to win as they had one of the better campaigns in recent years for a Freshman squad. As Coach Randy Snodgrass stated at the end of the season, "Even though we lost three games that very easily could have been won, I feel that with a little experience, a few of my boys could be some of the best players Danville has had in a long time."

WARRIOR'S WINNING SEASON STAYS IN SHADOWS

Pride, character and desire--these three words above all other describe the 1974-75 junior varsity basketball team. The guys gave their best, even when the worst was expected as the intangible quality of spirit and fight was always present. Heart, guts, desire--this was the warrior reserve style.

RESERVE TEAM--Coach, D. Price; D. Scott; J. Myers; J. Akers; R. Ellis; R. Carrington; D. Dodson; J. Davis; R. Turner; D. Thomas.

"SCOOT, GET UP, SUMA!"

Not eating, being irritable, and wearing three or four pair of sweats are only a few of the things wrestlers must endure. The true features of wrestling can often be covered by the beads of perspiration. A team sport, wrestling is also very much individual. Once a grappler steps on the mat he is alone. His success or failure depends on his strength, quickness and determination.

The 1974-75 grappling team had many standouts. Seniors Junior Spears and Mike Davis ended the regular season with outstanding 18-0 records. The team record ended at 6-4; they also captured fifth in the Mid-State and third in the county.

BUMP, SET, SPIKE

The girls are now in the swing of athletics as they finished off their season with a 4-4 record. They played quite a few more games this year over last season as a great deal of improvement was shown. The girls that play in competition know that there is more to it than just slamming a ball back and forth over a net and Coach Younce will be the first to tell you that.

Most of the varsity players will be graduating this year, but there is a good reserve team coming up to take their places. These future stars ended with a 4-2 record, and they will be ready next year when the season rolls around in August.

"YOU'VE COME A LONG WAY BABY"

The girls worked hard as they tried to improve but their efforts never seemed to come "together" for the games. As in all sports, there were some accidents, but nothing fatal--except maybe to the team's pride. The future of girls' basketball at DHS appears to be very bright. With a strong reserve team (which has an 8-1 record) combining with several returning varsity players, next year's team will give area opponents a rough time in their third year of competition.

WARRIORS' POOLSIDE MANNER IMPROVES

The Danville Swimming Warriors went for over a solid year with nothing until 1975 when they won their first meet. The team continued to improve throughout the season. Jeff Sparks was the Senior Captain as he led the team and kept their spirits high during the losing streak. This year's most valuable swimmer was Jeff Peters and his return next year will greatly help the Warriors cause.

GIRLS IMPROVE TEAM BETTER

Goggles were necessary equipment and shoestrings literally "held the team together" as the girls swim team worked hard to bring home victories this season. The team consisting basically of underclassmen was constantly striving to break their own times. Setting new records for our school that seldom remained unbroken for more than one or two meets was the ambition of all members. Those ambitions were fulfilled and the year turned out to be rewarding and complete.

WE'VE GOT SPIRIT

Cheerleading brings a smile to our faces, whether it's from a victory or an aching muscle from the splits. Through tryouts, summer camp, and the activities at school, we've learned to work together and raise a reasonable amount of pep and spirit. Practicing once a week, making posters, planning the pep sessions and finally the "game" make all our efforts seem more than worthwhile.

THINLIES HAVE STRONG HOPES

Leading the thinlies to a 5-7 record last year was John Lentz, the only senior on the team. Jeff Peters came on at the end of the year promising to be a leading competitor in the upcoming season, particularly in the mile. Senior Ralph Endres expects a good year leading the thinlies in the two mile event.

HARRIERS STRIDE THROUGH SEASON OF DISAPPOINTMENT

Delayed fall workouts combined with lack of depth was the major setback for the cross country team this year. Despite coming close several times, they were never able to register a victory. One bright spot for the harriers was Senior Ralph Endres as he set the course record in his last year of competition.

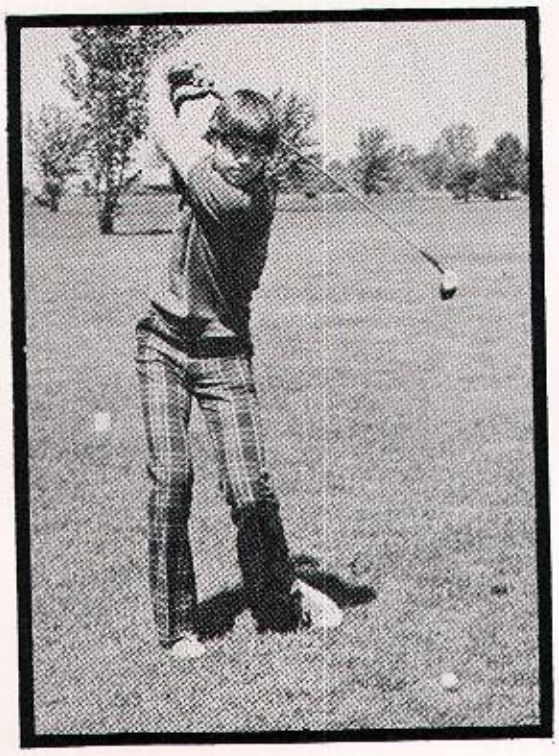
LINKSMEN IN THE ROUGH FOR '74



1974 proved to be a bit of a disappointment for the Warrior linksmen as only two of seven meets turned into victories. Practicing between the raindrops their dedication took them to back-to back victories against Mooresville and Thorntown midway through the season. Jim Kile's 6th place finish among all Mid-State golfers enabled the Warriors to finish a respectable fifth. Three returnees from the varsity should make 1975 a more interesting year of Warrior golf.

WHEN IT RAINS IT POURS

When the season of 1974 is recalled one man will be remembered most, the Weatherman, and the incredible amount of rain he poured on the Warrior's baseball schedule. Inspite of the inclement weather, the warriors were always resplendent in their new crimson and gray knit uniforms, (exact copies of those worn by the Major League Ball Clubs.) The fine showing of some of the underclassmen gives rise to great hopes for 1975. With the addition of a brand new field, the Warriors upcoming season should produce better results than the 3-7 record they posted last year.
